

I have enjoyed Wisconsin's do-not-call list law since its inception. I am rarely bothered by annoying telemarketers who would call all day long. Please leave this law as it stands. I am sure there are other methods of marketing other than calling people at in appropriate times. Let those company's use their creative minds to come up with different marketing tools. Thank you.